

STACK USING DYNAMIC ARRAY

```
#include<stdio.h>
#include<conio.h>
int push(int);
void pop();
void disp();
int *stk,i,*ptr,n,top=-1,ch;
void main()
{
    clrscr();
    printf("Enter stack size\t\t");
    scanf("%d",&n);

    for(;;)
    {
        printf("\n1. push 2. disp 3. pop 4. exit\n");
        printf("Read ch\t");
        scanf("%d",&ch);
        switch(ch)
        {
            case 1:push(n);
                    break;
            case 2:disp();
                    break;
            case 3:pop();
                    break;
            default:
                    exit(0);
        }
    }
    getch();
}

void disp()
{
    if(top== -1)
        printf("Empty Stack");
    else
    {
        for(i=0; i<=top;i++)
        {
            printf("%d\t",stk[i]);
        }
    }
}
```

```

    }
void pop()
{
    if(top== -1)
        printf("empty");
    else
    {
        printf("popped item is %d\n\n",stk[top]);
        top--;
        disp();
    }
}

```

```

int push(int n)
{
    if(top==n-1)
    {
        printf("Stack Full");
    }
    else
    {
        ptr=(int*) malloc(sizeof(int));
        printf("Enter ITEM");
        scanf("%d",ptr);
        stk[++top]=*ptr;
        ptr++;
        disp();
    }
    return;
}

```